

EndNote Direct Export Instructions

Remember: Check your references after exporting to make sure that they are accurate.

Annual Reviews	Check the references which you wish to import. Click on the Download to Citation Manager link. At next screen, check Citation and abstract for this article and the EndNote option. Ensure Enable quick import into citation manager is checked. Click on Download chapter metadata button. When prompted, choose to Open the file. Your EndNote software will now open. You will be asked to Select a Reference Library. Choose the library where you wish to store the references. They will then be imported into that library.
EBSCOhost	When your search results are displayed, identify the references which you wish to download. Click on the Add icon to add a reference to your folder. When you have finished selecting records, click on the Folder link at the top of the screen. This will display the references in your folder in a new window. Use the Select All command to select all references in the folder. At the top of the list of references, click

	on Export. This will open a new window. Check the radio button beside Direct Export to EndNote, ProCite, or Reference Manager. Then click on the Save button. Your EndNote software will now open. You will be asked to Select a Reference Library. Choose the library where you wish to store the references. They will then be imported into that library.
EMBASE	Mark the records which you wish to download. Click on the Export link. When new window opens, use the drop-down menu to select EndNote and click on the Export button. When prompted, Open the file of references. Your EndNote software will now open. You will be asked to Select a Reference Library. Choose the library where you wish to store the references. They will then be imported into that library.
ERIC	Click Add to add references to the clipboard (maximum of 50 records). Click on ... items in My Clipboard to view the clipboard. When clipboard is displayed, check each record and click on Export Citations.

	Select file type Citation Manager File. Click on Download. Your EndNote software will now open. You will be asked to Select a Reference Library. Choose the library where you wish to store the references. They will then be imported into that library.
Index Veterinarius Note: Some HTML codes visible	Mark the records which you wish to download. At the bottom of your screen, select EndNote from your dropdown box. Click Export. Your EndNote software will now open. You will be asked to Select a Reference Library. Choose the library where you wish to store the references. They will then be imported into that library.
ScienceDirect	Check the boxes beside the references you wish to download. Click on the export citations button at the top of the list of references. This will display the export citations screen. At the Content Format option, select Citations and Abstracts At the Export Format option, select RIS format Click on the Export button. Your EndNote software will now open. You will be asked to Select a Reference

	Library. Choose the library where you wish to store the references. They will then be imported into that library.
SpringerLink	Add citation to list by clicking Add to Marked Items. Click on Marked Items link and select the boxes next to the citations you wish to export. Select the Download this List icon. Under Export the citations from your current list of items select RIS format. When prompted, Open the file. Your EndNote software will now open. You will be asked to Select a Reference Library. Choose the library where you wish to store the references. They will then be imported into that library.
Web of Science Note: To include the abstract in the imported reference, add the reference to the marked list. Open the marked list and select abstract field in step 1. In step 2 select Export to Reference Software.	Display your marked references. Look under Output Records and select the option to output full Records. Click Export to Reference Software. Your EndNote software will now open. You will be asked to Select a Reference Library. Choose the library where you wish to store the references. They will then be imported into that library.

Wiley Interscience	Check the boxes beside the references which you wish to download. Click Download Selected Citations. For format select EndNote. Click Go. When prompted, Open the file. Your EndNote software will now open. You will be asked to Select a Reference Library. Choose the library where you wish to store the references. They will then be imported into that library.
---------------------------	---