

CAVMRC Disaster Response & Preparedness Training 2012

CAVMRC and WesternU CVM are pleased to host animal in disaster experts Dick Green and Dr. Rhonda Windham from the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Both speakers are seasoned professionals in the area of disaster preparedness and response and they travel the country teaching veterinary professionals about various subjects pertaining to their role in a deployment. Training will cover topics such as: -

- Disaster response infrastructure and the role of the CAVMRC in it
- Personal Preparedness
- what a veterinarian professional should bring to a deployment
- Shelter management
- Triage for patients in the emergency shelter setting
- ...and more!

Attendees will receive 7 units of CE credit and lunch will be provided. This session is full.
