The Institutional Self-Study and Report

- Reflect and research before you write
- The self-study is the process
- The report is the product
The Institutional Report

Your story matters

Write your story in a way that you would want to read it
The Institutional Report: Importance of Evidence

AN EVIDENCE-BASED REPORT:

• Report should not just be narrative and descriptive, but reflective and analytical
• Analysis should be evidence-based
• This does NOT mean a data-dump!!!

USE EVIDENCE THAT IS:

• Relevant
• Verifiable - truthful
• Representative
• Cumulative
• Actionable

Evidence helps tell your story – and makes it convincing!
The Institutional Report: Good Evidence

• Intentional and purposive
• Entails interpretation and reflection
• Integrated and holistic
• Quantitative and qualitative
• Direct and indirect
The Institutional Report: Tips

- You may reorder and combine components (though I don’t recommend it)

- Prompts are there to help facilitate your thinking; you do not need to answer each prompt

- Define (discuss), measure (assess), analyze, act (plan)

- Be self-reflective

Core Competencies at the Graduate Level

CFR 2.2b

The institution’s graduate programs establish clearly stated objectives differentiated from and more advanced than undergraduate programs in terms of admissions, curricula, standards of performance, and student learning outcomes. Graduate programs foster students’ active engagement with the literature of the field and create a culture that promotes the importance of scholarship and/or professional practice. Ordinarily, a baccalaureate degree is required for admission to a graduate program.

Guidelines: Institutions offering graduate-level programs employ, at least, one full-time faculty member for each graduate degree program offered and have a preponderance of the faculty holding the relevant terminal degree in the discipline. Institutions demonstrate that there is a sufficient number of faculty members to exert collective responsibility for the development and evaluation of the curricula, academic policies, and teaching and mentoring of students.
Institutional Report

• CFR 1.2: Educational objectives are widely recognized throughout the institution, are consistent with stated purposes, and are demonstrably achieved. The institution regularly generates, evaluates, and makes public data about student achievement, including measures of retention and graduation, and evidence of student learning.
