

College of Osteopathic Medicine of the Pacific
COMP-Northwest

The Essentials of Clinical Medicine course at COMP-Northwest hosts Pelvic, Breast, and Genital-Rectal (PBR) Exam workshops twice annually, in which our 2nd year medical students practice these exams on real people. These directed learning experiences will be held at COMP-Northwest in private exam rooms. During each exam there will be a licensed physician facilitating the examination for two medical students. By participating in one or more of these sessions you are helping us teach essential clinical skills to the next generation of doctors.

- On each date we will need 4 women for the Pelvic Exams. These women cannot have had a hysterectomy and cannot be menstruating on the date of the exam. The medical students will be taught how to feel for the ovaries, and will examine the cervix. They will perform a bimanual exam. They will not conduct a rectal exam. Each patient model will see approximately 14 students per day and will be compensated at $25.00/exam.
- On each date we will need 2 additional women for the Breast Exams. The area under each arm and each breast will be examined. The breasts and nipples will be palpated to demonstrate proper examination technique. It is preferable that these women not have breast implants. Each patient model will see approximately 27 students per day and will be compensated at $12.50 /exam.
- On each date we will need 3 men for Genital-Rectal Exams. This exam consists of inspection of the testicles, penis, and pelvic area, followed by a digital rectal exam. These men should be mature (ideally 30-60 years old). Each patient model will see approximately 18 students per day and will be compensated at $30.00/exam.

On the next page is our Patient Model Application. Please complete this form and submit it via mail, fax, or email. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact us.
